My daughter has always shown interest in the business, and she became my partner when she turned 18," said Tremmel-Anderson.

Over the years, Tremmel-Anderson has developed an expanded network of other dependable truck brokers, which gives her access to more than 100 plus trucks when combined with her own fleet. She credits her success to being a strong leader and her commitment to those she works with. As a woman of strong faith, Tremmel-Anderson makes many of her truckers part of her extended family and instills a good work ethic. Accountability & discipline as well as a structured workplace make a great balance between truckers & customers," said Tremmel-Anderson.

Theresa is actively involved in the community and has worked with the DOT to design and improve the state-used CRCS. In addition, she has mentored many minority companies and is a member of NAMC. In addition to her Times Square honor, Theresa was also POWER's Women of the Month for April 2024.
